THIRTY-SIXTH YEAR. NO. 18.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1913.

PRICE, $1.00 A YEAR

Years Have Made Changes.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Baker, who spent the winter in Florida, were here Tuesday morning on their way to the Horse show at Washington C. H. Mr. Baker bought property in Kissimmee, Florida, while sojourning there. He had owned property in the same place for some time, but he relates many interesting incidents that are constantly occurring there, where comrades, who have not met since the war, happened to come together. They have a register of all soldiers who have met at the place, and these are divided into states, with the name of company and regiment to which the soldier belonged. In this way they trace each other, and sometimes soldiers have met by simply hearing a name, and making inquiry of the comrade as to where he came from. In Mr. Baker's case an old soldier was telling of a horse race he saw at Savannah, Ga., after Sherman had reached there. The speaker was pretty hard on the young fellow who won the race. He had played ignorant of racing, and his competitor was anxious to run with him. The time was set some days ahead and in the meantime the young soldier, supposed not to know anything about it, who was attached to an orderly to Gen. Sherman's headquarters, and a splendid rider, found a horse that was a real goer. He tried him out several times and told his partner he would lick the other fellow out of his last war. And that of all his backers. And it so happened. He said that it was the greatest race he ever saw. Mr. Baker asked him if he had a good memory of faces. "Yes, I think I have," was the reply. "You never met the boys afterward," queried Mr. Baker. "No, no. I never saw them since, and after these many years, I suppose they are changed some."

"No doubt of that. None of us look exactly like we did in that year of 1864. I am sure I don't. Perhaps that's why you do not recognize me," said Baker. "Recognize you," replied the comrade, puzzled. "Yes, me, because I certainly did win that race, and it is funny to me every time I recall the incident. My competitor was so confident. He really knew very little about horses. He was no jockey, but had plenty of nerve, and with a good horse, he thought he was safe against all comers. And the 'know nothing' he was to run against, pleased him all the time. He merely pitted himself against my hobby—that was all. We boys about headquarters needed money. We were good spenders as were most of the boys. Tomorrow, our carcasses would be consigned to the trench. They were all along the way from Atlanta to the sea. A battle was a serious thing, a horse race the opposite. We extracted all the fun in it, if not for our country sake, for our own. And if the boys were made happy, the country would not suffer. And if they lost a horse race, they would be sure to take it out on the enemy whom we soon should meet. The soldier's philosophy is made to suit all occasions. I am glad, comrade, to meet you as one of the spectators of that horse race in Savannah so long ago. Wonder where all the rest of the boys are that were there that day? You are the only one I have ever met since."

AN OLD SOLDIER'S DEATH.

Edward S. Griffith died at the Soldiers' Home at Dayton April 23rd, aged 77 years, 8 months and 15 days. Two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Griffith with Roy Matthews moved from Hillsboro to the Little farm, off the Kyle road. About a year ago his health failed and on March 22 was taken to the Soldiers' Home hospital. Mr. Griffith was born in Mercer county, Pa., Sept. 3, 1836. When he was about 18 years old, he with his parents, moved from Pennsylvania to Samanah, O., and soon after to Hillsboro, where he remained until two years ago, when he came to this vicinity. At the age of fifty he united with the Presbyterian church at Hillsboro. He remained a faithful member until death. In June, 1862, he enlisted in the army, being a member of Co. G of the 11th Ohio. He was a true soldier to the close of the war, always doing his duty as a brave soldier. He was also a member of the G. A. R. His wife, Mrs. Martha M. Griffith, three children, one stepson, two sisters and two brothers survive him. The body was brought from Dayton to the residence on North street Friday. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. B. Fitt, D. D., of the M. B. church conducting the services. Interment took place at Massies Creek, where the G. A. R. burial service was used. The family greatly appreciate the kindness of friends and neighbors in their bereavement.

NEW CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS

The legislature has adjourned and as expected the new congressional districting bill passed which greatly altered the old districting of the state. Greene county has been taken from the sixth and placed in what is to be the seventh, made up of the following counties: Warren, Clinton, Fayette, Madison, Clark, Champaign, Union, Logan. Republican by 12,000. The old sixth consists of Clermont, Brown, Highland, Adams, Pike, Scioto, Democratic by a small margin. Various members of congress, Democratic and Republican, are denouncing the present plan and are threatening to use the referendum election law to upset matters. The charge is that the districts are unfair, but we ask who ever saw a fair gerrymander? The fact that the majority party in power makes the districts means that nothing fair can be expected under such a law. Congressman Willis, Francis, Post, Senator Burton and others who are complaining, would do just what has been done if it was to their own personal advantage. Congressman Pease admits that the gerrymander bill is unfair, but "unfair" things are all right when they come a politician's way, consequently the congressman has little to say and will take advantage of what the Democrats have cut out for him.

Joseph's experience was one of the happiest illustrations of the saying that every cloud has a silver lining. Merle Rife will lead the Christian Union Sabbath evening. The pastor will preach a series of special sermons to young men during May. The theme next Sabbath will be "A Young Man's Strength." The following committee has been appointed to arrange for Mother's Day: Mrs. Edgar Tobias, Misses Maggie Finney and Carrie Rife. Rev. C. C. Kyle, of Quincy, Iowa, preached a most helpful and interesting sermon last Sabbath. The congregation is delighted to have its boys come back, giving evidence of having developed into useful Christian workers. The Christian Union is planning for a month of special activity during May. What will you do? Gordon Collins gave the congregation an interesting report of the meeting of Presbytery at Jamestown last week.

The Sabbath school went over the marks set by the superintendent last Sabbath. Now let us keep up the good attendance. My, how the superintendent and pastor smiled. Quite a fine attendance of strangers were present last Sabbath. Come again, friends. Everybody is welcome.

Mrs. Charles Finney and Geo. W. Rife and Miss Elva Ferguson are a committee to solicit new members for the Missionary Society. Let every man join.

General Secretary Shaw, of the Christian Endeavor movement has announced himself a recruit to the Prohibition Party.

Mr. Floyd Hamilton had the misfortune to get his limb broken last week. An auto, in Springfield, ran into his motorcycle. "I can't think of asking my children to go to both Sabbath school and church; it is too much to expect them to sit still through two services," is the voice of not real maternal care. It is simply sentimental coddling. No children of normal health are worse for two and a half hours of enforced quiet on Sabbath morning. Apart from that, the religious benefit of it, the experience is an excellent antidote to the ever-present American poison of restlessness.

The liquor sellers recently put forward a man who was said to have been a pint of spirit a day, and yet he was 90 years of age. Some doctors investigated his case, and found it to be quite true. But they also found that of his children, one was an idiot, another an epileptic, and the rest of them were feeble.

The world will soon smile back at you. So try to be up and look pleasant. No matter how low you are down; Good humor is always contagious. But you banish your friends when you frown."

Owing to so many undesirable citizens being in Dayton as a result of the flood, men brought in to work on the streets, the police made a clean-up and arrested about 400. A special train was sent out of the city guarded with officers and the men landed in Chicago from whence most of them came. In the crowd were six of Cedarville's colored population who made their escape when the train stopped in Troy for water. The men say they were searched and every cent they possessed taken. The Dayton officers contend that the men would not work and had been drinking.

The Fair Board has given the W. C. T. U. permission to erect a permanent building on the Fair grounds. The plans have been completed and a scheme devised for its payment. To Freshen Air.

To freshen the air of a sickroom, ground coffee should be sprinkled on a shovel or conical spoon previously heated in the fire. A match should then be held to a small piece of camphor-gum, and when this is alight it should be placed in the center of the shovel. The burning coffee gives an aromatic aroma to the room, which is very refreshing.

EXTENSION SCHOOLS NEXT WINTER.

Following the adjournment of the legislature a few days ago, comes the announcement that provision has been made for holding one week Agricultural Extension Schools throughout the state next winter. The number of these five-day meetings is limited to one in each county. Members of the faculty of the Agricultural College at Columbus will be the speakers. The Extension Schools are not intended to take the place of farmers' institutes, but rather to add to what is taught in the former. Lasting from Monday till Friday they give opportunity for a more complete discussion of the underlying principles of better farming than can be had in a two-day meeting. Last winter the College of Agriculture held Extension schools in nearly fifty counties of the state.
